

Hypno-Learning- The Smarter Way of Helping Children Succeed

Interesting fact

Many Hypnotherapists worry about working with children. But it can be simple, easy and fun. Children are natural hypnotherapy subjects so you are simply connecting them to something they already do well.

This LCCH Workshop on Hypno-Learning for Children is presented by Darren Roscoe. He is a big child with a huge talent for working with children. You will learn how to engage with different age groups and how to make or break rapport with a child. The workshop will cover the management of a therapy session, what to do with anxious parents, how to empower your young patient and how to re-design grown up hypnotherapy so that it works with your young patient.

The workshop will include a discussion of appropriate guidelines, laws and ethical considerations when working with children. Darren will also discuss useful studies and research including Rich and Woolever 1998 who found significant improvements in test-taking performance given certain parameters.
